THREATS WONT HELP IN FLOATING A LOAN

France and Russia May Get the Cold Shoulder From Money Kings of United States

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, July 22.—A neutral diplomat, well informed, declared today that the publication of the British blacklist under the trading with the enemy act was "the greatest possible tactical blunder at this time, when France is floating a loan in America and important Russian financial arrangements are under way." Uneasiness exists among American branch houses, whose home offices have financial trading connections with Germany.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 22.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, and Acting Secretary Polk discussed the blacklist today, but no announcement was made. Administration officials are considering what steps will be taken to meet the situation.

WILL FIGHT AGAINST PREPAREDNESS BILL

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 22.—There is a prospect ahead for a long struggle in the conference committee relative to the increase in the building provisions of the naval bill, which went to the committee. The House is expected to insist on a plan for only five capital warships next year and a fight in the Senate is expected on the three year program.

BREAD RATIONS GROWING SHORT

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL BE ASKED TO ADMIT MORE WHEAT

(By Associated Press.) AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, July 22.—A commission of American doctors has been visiting the Brussels hospitals, investigating whether an increase of the Belgian population's bread rations is necessary. Should it decide in the affirmative, the American commission for relief in Belgium will ask the British government to consent to the supply of wheat from the United States being proportionately increased.

Commenting on the subject, a Brussels correspondent writes that the present position is one of "general national under feeding."

JIM BUTLER WILL APPEAL THE WEST END APPEX CASE

Advices from Philadelphia state that the directors of the Jim Butler have resolved to appeal from the decision of the Nevada supreme court to the United States supreme court. The chief ground for the appeal is the fact that the rights of an anti-clinical roll has never been defined by the highest court in the land. The question is whether the holder of the apex of an anti-clinical has the right to Afternoon Newspapers Are Printing the News TODAY!

That is what the public wants. The old time publisher used to think that it did not make any difference whether the public received the news today or tomorrow. The average newspaper was filled with correspondence weeks old. But today, the public demands, the news of today without delay. What is news this afternoon is history tomorrow. A subscriber is not content to read the news tomorrow that his neighbor read yesterday in a more enterprising newspaper.

EXTRA

FOUR O'CLOCK FOUR KILLED BY DYNAMITERS

(By Associated Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—A bomb hidden in a suit case and made of nails, cartridges and dynamite, exploded at Market and Stuart streets while the preparedness parade was passing. The explosion is known to have killed four paraders and injured at least fifteen.

The suitcase was leaning against a building, which was demolished completely. Men and women, half blinded and cut by the explosion, ran bleeding in every direction, stumbling over the bodies of dead and wounded. The bomb had been timed to explode shortly after 2 o'clock, when the parade was well started up Market street.

For a time it was believed the dead numbered eight, but this number was later reduced to four killed outright. It is believed some of the injured probably will die. The injured were taken to a hospital by hurriedly summoned ambulances, which plunked down Market street to the scene of the tragedy without disturbing the marching ranks.

The scene where the bomb exploded is a bloody one, blood and flesh being scattered in every direction.

Grand army veterans were standing in the vicinity preparing to march away when the explosion occurred.

WIDENING SCOPE OF DISCUSSION

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION TO FURNISH PLAN FOR POLICY OF RECONSTRUCTION

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 22.—The acceptance here of the Carranza proposals for a joint commission to settle differences between the United States and Mexico appears certain. The delay apparently in the time for a reply from Carranza is caused by suggestions that the proposals be amended somewhat. American officials believe in widening the scope of the discussion so that it would offer opportunity to evolve a plan for rehabilitating Mexico.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 22.—Reports of the War department from Alpine, Texas, say the shooting of Col. Butler by Harry J. Spannall, manager of a hotel, "appears like a cold blooded, premeditated murder, committed by a man crazed by jealousy." The reports declare Col. (By Associated Press.) EL PASO, July 22.—Harry J. Spannall is held in jail here under heavy guard. He declined to talk to newspaper men and apparently is on the verge of a collapse. He expressed a wish for his wife and daughter.
